Aprilia RSV4 protection from GB Racing

British firm GB Racing has just released a set of protectors for the Aprilia RSV4, developed with the help of the Splitlath Aprilia British Superbike team.

The secondary clutch and alternator covers bolt straight on or off, allowing for easy removal or replacement, are said to be oil, scratch and heat resistant, and cost £77.14 and £62.52 respectively. Splitlath team principal John Dimbylow said: "We worked with GB Racing on this – much detail and thought has gone into it. Various prototypes were made, and adjustments continually made until the product was perfect, looking carefully at where abrasions were suffered on crashed bikes." More info: www.gbracing.eu.

Clutch cover was extensively tested by the BSB Splitlath team

The alternator cover, like clutch protector, bolts straight to casing
